KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Some of the key risks associated with this Fund are listed below:

- Interest Rate Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to adverse changes in market prices of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to the fund's inability to sell and convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price.
- Credit/Default Risk: This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued.

The Fund invests in quality assets which are evaluated under the Trust Department's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits, together with regulatory exposure limits, are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The month of March saw yields declining amidst abundant liquidity and persistent global growth woes that plague market sentiment. Appetite was mostly on the 10 years above. Yields from the belly to the long end of the curve went down approximately 20 bps as yields on the local bonds tracked movements on the US treasury bonds. After the "ultra" dovish comments from the Fed Chair Janet Yellen, emerging market bonds rallied after suit. With a the local monetary board policy likely to remain on hold in the 2nd quarter due to its leeway to respond to external challenges, markets continued to chase yields as the local bond yield curve flattened.

March inflation of 1.1% came out in line with market expectations and within BSP's forecast range. Higher food, alcoholic and tobaccos and miscellaneous inflation account for the higher inflation rate relative to the February headline inflation rate of 0.9%. The 1Q average inflation rate was 1.1%.

Meanwhile, the implementation of the Interest Rate Corridor is targeted to start by 2Q 2016. The final details for this new system for steering money market rates towards central bank target/policy rate will come out 15 days prior to the official start.
