Fund Manager's Report

The yields of peso government securities (GS) declined across the curve as the market continued to buy on bullish sentiment. The shorter-end of the curve rallied more pronouncedly on the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' decision to cut policy rates from 4.50% to 4.25%. Yields of the 3-year and the 1-year papers declined by 31.6 basis points and 66.7 basis points, respectively.

The government successfully auctioned 10-year and 20-year notes. PhP9 billion worth of 10-year bonds was auctioned at an average rate 5.169%, while another PhP9 billion worth of 20-year bonds fetched an average yield of 5.906%.

The rally seemed to be supported by fundamental factors that suggest that bonds will remain attractive this year. Inflation expectations are still benign, easing to 4.2% in December 2011 from 4.8% in November. Average inflation for 2011 was 4.8% and was within the government's target of 3% to 5%. However, GDP growth slowed to 3.7% in 2011 compared to 7.6% growth in 2010. Because of the slower growth, the low interest rate environment is likely to continue, suggesting a bullish scenario for the bond market.
