KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Some of the key risks associated with this Fund are listed below:

- Interest Rate Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to adverse changes in market prices of securities. It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk: This is the possibility to experience losses due to the fund's inability to sell and convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a highly disadvantageous price.
- Credit/Default Risk: This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued.

The Fund invests in quality assets which are evaluated under the Trust Department's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits, together with regulatory exposure limits, are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The Fed, Greece and China have been setting the tone for Asian markets recently. Volatility spiked for the month of July, driven mainly by escalating concerns over Greece and increased volatility in Chinese equities. While early July, a risk –off sentiment pushed safe haven yields lower, Improving prospects in Greece (especially after successful negotiations with its creditors) and a deep correction to the sharp selloff in Chinese equities took the shine off-safe haven markets with Treasuries as well as other safe havens undergoing a sharp reversal of the post-Greek referendum move last week.

On the other hand, the Fed released the minutes of its June meeting last June 8, which the market interpreted as dovish, but the dovish sentiment was reversed after Yellen's speech in Cleveland where she said that she expects that a rate hike will be appropriate later in 2015.
