Inflation eased in September to 4.4% from August's 4.9% and BSP holds the key policy rate at 4%. The Central bank also held SDA levels at 2.5% and held the reserve ratio at 20%.

The month of October witnessed a rally as the bulls prevailed the market scene. Positive sentiment flooded the market as easing inflation concerns spurred speculation that BSP will keep rates on hold until 2015 coupled with US federal Reserve hinting a prolonged stance for accommodative policy. In addition to the already strong urge to push yields lower, the Philippine government released its $4QTR borrowing plan with minimal long dated securities. Month on Month, yields went down across the curve with the long end going down 30- 40 bps and the belly going down 50 bps mostly on the liquid securities.
