Fund Manager's Report

The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) kept steady with a slight increase of 0.06%, closing March at 6,428.71. This slowdown compared to February's 6.4% gain and January's 2.57% gain comes off the heels of China's slowdown which raises concerns in emerging markets. Inflation lowered back to 4.1% in February from 4.2% the month prior. This is still on the higher end of BSP's 3-5% target and one of the methods it has used to address this is the raising of banks' reserve requirement to 19%, in line with the consensus among analysts' forecast. The Philippines recorded a BOP surplus of US $ 345mn last month, up from last month's US$4.48bn deficit.

Performances from the different sectors were mixed with Mining and Oil and Services rallying by 3.1% and 2.31%, respectively. Other sectors dragged the index as Financial (-3.34%), Industrial (-0.83%) and Property (-0.27%) reflected
